

"Since the Jingling of the Sleigh Bells in '67 to the Honk of the Horn Today"

OUR grandparents knew the danger of driving without a robe—no sleigh or carriage was complete without a robe, and purely because it afforded protection from cold and dampness.

Protect yourself from serious illness by having the proper covering when motoring. A motor robe is a necessity not an accessory.

BOTH BOXERS EJECTED FOR "STALLING"

Jeff Smith and Jack McCarron, Heavyweights, Were Giving Bout at Toledo.

Toledo, O., Nov. 22.—Compensation they were to receive for 12 rounds of boxing here last night, was withheld from Jack McCarron of Allentown, Pa., and Jeff Smith of Bayonne, N. J., because of "stalling in the ring." It was announced by Mayor Cornell Scheiber's boxing commission to-day.

Smith and McCarron, middleweights, were ejected from the Coliseum ring last night in the sixth round of their scheduled 12-round bout.

Action was taken by Ollie Peckard, referee, when that official was ordered by Mayor Scheiber to stop the bout because the "people were not receiving their money's worth." The money will be converted to the commission's charity fund, the mayor said.

FOR WESTERN CHAMPIONSHIP

Ohio State and Illinois Meet with Even Chances.

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 22.—Ohio State and Illinois eleven met to-day to decide the championship of the western conference for 1919. No gridiron engagement in the west transcends in importance the duel between these two premier teams of the "Big Ten."

Relative scores confirmed the judgment of dolesters who figured either team to win.

The greatest crowd in the history of Ohio football was assured for the game. Upwards of 15,000 persons will view the clash. Wagering on the game was moderate and no odds were demanded by either side.

NASAL CATARRH

Though Very Common It Is a Serious Disease—Worse at This Season.

It is an inflammation of the mucous membrane, causing a discharge, and is aggravated by colds and sudden changes of weather, but depends on an impure condition of the blood. When chronic it may develop into consumption by breaking down the delicate lung tissues and impairing the general health.

Begin treatment with Hood's Sarsaparilla at once. This medicine purifies the blood, removes the cause of the disease, and gives permanent relief. It has been entirely satisfactory to three generations.

If a cathartic is needed, take Hood's Pills—gentle and thorough, enliven the liver, regulate the bowels.—Adv.

BOTH TEAMS CALLED "FIT"

Harvard and Yale Ready for Their Utmost Effort

ENTHUSIASM RUNS RIOT IN CAMBRIDGE

Thousands of People Disappointed Because Unable to Get Tickets

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 22.—Harvard and Yale approached the annual settlement of their football claims to-day with the players primed to make their utmost efforts. Both teams were reported "fit" by trainers and coaches and the enthusiasm among the adherents ran riot.

Approximately 50,000 spectators streamed out to the Harvard stadium to watch the teams in their first contest since 1916. Thousands of others, disappointed because of their inability to obtain tickets, awaited the outcome on the streets or in gathering places where bulletins were posted. Boston newspapers, under orders in effect since the state guard has been on police duty there, were not permitted to display bulletins of the game, but arranged to publish many extra editions.

Although experts declared that analysis of previous efforts showed no reason for giving Harvard odds, the Crimson entered the game favorite. The results against Princeton showed Harvard the stronger, but Yale's admirers believed the Blue was due for a big comeback. Squad statistics showed the Harvard men taller than their opponents but pound lighter in the average weight.

The heavy blanket of straw placed over the field Wednesday was not sufficient to make the playing surface perfect. Uncertain footing handicapped neither team to any particular extent, however, according to the records of the backfield runners.

Weather conditions appeared to favor the spectators, as the day opened fair and mild.

Players on the teams remained at their rest quarters until after noon. The Yale contingent played numerous head games at the Belmont Springs Country club, while the Harvard squad listened to the final warnings and advice of coaches at the even more secluded Essex Country club. Both elevens appeared confident of winning, there being not the slightest tendency to conservatism of either side. All appeared to believe the result would be governed largely by individual prowess and "breaks."

WHITE RIVER JUNCTION

The first annual concert and ball given by the White River Junction, N. H., Knights of Columbus, at Gates opera house Friday evening, Nov. 21, was the greatest social event of the season. The dance itself was preceded by an excellent concert given by Governor's Foot Guard orchestra of Hartford, Conn., which also furnished music for the dancing.

Following the concert came the grand march led by D. P. Healey, leading officer of Michael's council, and Mrs. Healey, in which over 100 couples participated. Later in the evening novelty dances were introduced. Over 200 couples attended the dance beside a splendid buffet table.

The hall was very tastefully decorated with flags, bunting, evergreen and a lavish display of electric lights. Just back of the orchestra was a fan-shaped decoration across which was written the words, Michael's council, No. 2225, in purple letters. Suspended from the ceiling of the hall were the electric light studded initials K. C. During some of the dances nearly all the lights in the hall were turned out, leaving only those on the K. C. sign to the light the room, which made a very pretty effect.

Miss Alice Russ and Leon Shepard of Hartland were married at the Universalist parsonage Saturday afternoon, Nov. 15, by Rev. H. L. Thornton.

Capt. J. W. Aikin of West Lebanon celebrated his 79th birthday Friday afternoon by inviting in a few of his old comrades and friends, Capt. Horace French, Comrade Andrew Rollins, Comrade David Payne, Robert Dowe of the world war, George H. Kibling, Reuben True and Rev. H. L. Thornton.

The afternoon was passed in a campfire and the incidents related of the war of the Rebellion were amusing and pathetic. Capt. Aikin is quite vigorous for his years. Refreshments were served.

Mrs. George Wilson returned Saturday from a week's visit with friends in Lowell and Derby.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Raymond and son, Carlton, of Springfield spent the past week as guests of Arthur Boss and Mrs. Edgar Bourdon of West Lebanon.

WILL NOMINATE FOR PRESIDENT

National Labor Party Attacks Both Republicans and Democrats

RADICALS AND CONSERVATIVES CLASH

An All-Night Conference Preceded the Convention

Chicago, Nov. 22.—Nearly 1,000 delegates, including labor leaders, co-operative association sponsors and representatives of farmers' organizations and the Non-Partisan league, were here to-day to attend a convention of the National Labor party called primarily to nominate a candidate for president of the United States.

Many of the new party men went to the meeting this morning after an all-night conference caused, they said, by a conflict between radical and conservative leaders in the American Federation of Labor, with possible injection into the controversy of third element.

The convention was called recently by John Fitzpatrick, president of the Chicago Federation of Labor and chairman of the national steel strike committee, and his associates in the middle west.

The two major parties will be attacked, Fitzpatrick said, with the intention of rendering them impotent. The Democratic party first will be assailed, he said, "because of its attitude toward union labor" and an assault on the Republican organization would follow.

Among resolutions delegates said would be presented to the convention were those advocating "free speech and the right of free assembly," removal of the allied blockade of the soviet government of Russia and an endorsement of the bolshevik government.

Prominent among the speakers announced for the convention was Governor Lynn J. Fraser of North Dakota.

WILL NOT INTERFERE WITH I. W. W. HAYWOOD

Detroit Legions Will Not Seek Injunction as Mayor Promises to Permit No Seditious Remarks.

Detroit, Nov. 22.—The local post of the American Legion announced at the close of a special meeting late last night that plans formulated to-day to prevent William D. Haywood, secretary of the I. W. W., from speaking at a mass meeting here Sunday, Nov. 30, had been abandoned.

Upon the promise of Mayor Couzens that officers will attend the meeting and prevent any seditious or inflammatory speeches, the veterans gave up their plan to seek an injunction against Haywood.

A number of other organizations, it is said, have protested to the mayor against having Haywood to address the meeting.

HAYWOOD WILL NOT SPEAK, LEGION SAYS

Adjutant Asserts That the Protection Promised by Detroit Mayor Will Not Avail.

Detroit, Nov. 22.—Taking official cognizance of the reports that the American Legion will undertake to prevent William D. Haywood from speaking at a mass meeting Sunday, Nov. 30, Mayor James Couzens has announced police protection will be given Haywood if necessary to enable him to deliver his address.

David G. Jones, adjutant of Charles L. LeMay post, which comprises 6,000 members of the Legion, replied that "regardless of what Mayor Couzens does, Haywood will not speak in Detroit."

A statement authorized at state headquarters of the Legion said: "If Mayor Couzens and the police department do not intend to prevent Haywood from speaking here, the American Legion will."

Efforts also will be made to prevent Emma Goldman and Alexander Berkman from addressing a meeting Nov. 23.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

"I Love You" at Barre Opera House Next Friday Evening.

In "I Love You," the farce comedy which G. M. Anderson sends to the Barre opera house for an engagement Friday, Nov. 28, William LeBaron, the author, demonstrates what has been strongly suspected since his "The Very Idea," that he is one of the foremost satirists writing for the American stage. Off hand George Ade is the only American we can think of who excels LeBaron in painting satirical pictures. In "I Love You" LeBaron chooses as the subject of his satire the idle and, in this particular case, the ignorant rich.—adv.

MOTHER AND CHILDREN GRATEFUL

In East Boston, Mass., at 23 Lanson street, a contented family of three children and the mother live, daily thanking in silence the kind neighbor who helped them when they were sick. Mrs. Nellie Woodford is the mother, and she writes the following letter to Dr. J. F. True & Co.: "Having heard about your medicine from my neighbors and druggist, I wondered if your Dr. True's Elixir wasn't what I needed. I am a hard-working woman, working six hours every day for the Penn Realty Trust Company in Boston. In doing this work, I use a lot of strength. Besides this, looking after my house and the care of my three children wore me out.

"I guess my nerves got out of kilt first. I worried a lot, and seemed to get tired easy. I lost my appetite. I was overcast with dizziness, my eyes got blurred, and I soon found I had to stay home from work. I didn't do any housework, but the rest didn't do any good.

"I always had one special doctor for myself and the children, but he was out of town when I was sick. I took medicine from the druggist which my friends brought in, but nothing did any good. My bowels were out of order, my breath bad, and I was shaky all over. Worst of all, the terrible shakiness before your Dr. True's Elixir was brought in to me by a neighbor.

"After a short time I began to cheer up and be myself again. My bowels were soon in order, and I noticed that the dizzy spells had left me. I think your Elixir wonderful. I am working every day now, getting stronger and picking up my appetite. I feel full of gratitude toward Dr. True's Elixir.

"The children sometimes eat things which don't agree with them, when I am not around to see, and then cramps and constipation follow. I just get out my bottle of Dr. True's Elixir and find no trouble in getting them to take some. It is easy to talk. Their bowels are soon all right. It may interest you to know that recently my youngest child was terribly sick and it was a serious case. We all have your Elixir to thank for relieving her of stomach worms. When I gave it to Louise it acted like magic, and fixed her up only after two doses."
